U.S. and Iran Sign Framework Deal to End War and Reopen the Strait of Hormuz — NPR / NBC News / CNN

~24h ago · Middle East & Global

President Trump and VP Vance virtually signed an agreement with Iran to immediately halt all military operations, lift the US naval blockade, and reopen the Strait of Hormuz, with 60 days of nuclear negotiations to follow. The deal, brokered with Pakistan as mediator, ends a nearly four-month conflict that killed thousands and severed a chokepoint carrying roughly 20% of the world's traded oil.

G7 Leaders Open Summit in France With Iran Deal and Ukraine War Topping the Agenda — NPR / France 24

World leaders gathered today in Évian-les-Bains for the 52nd G7 Summit, with French President Macron calling the US-Iran pact 'a very important step for peace' even as Trump faces sharp criticism from European allies who were not consulted before the US went to war with Iran. Ukraine's future and trade remain on the agenda for the three-day summit.

Oil Falls Below $100 a Barrel as Global Markets Rally on Iran Ceasefire — Bloomberg / IG International

~12h ago · Markets & Economy

Brent crude dropped nearly 5% on the Iran ceasefire news, slipping below $100 a barrel for the first time in months, while equities and bonds surged worldwide. Analysts caution that the IEA estimates over 14 million barrels per day of supply remain shut in, and that global trade flows through Hormuz will take months to normalize even after mine-clearance is complete.

Norwegian Crown Princess's Son Sentenced to 4 Years in Prison for Rape — CBS News / NPR / Euronews
