In a 6-3 ruling the court overturned a 91-year-old precedent and held that Trump's firing of FTC Commissioner Rebecca Kelly Slaughter was lawful, allowing the president to remove members of historically independent regulatory agencies at will. The decision puts the FTC, EEOC, CFPB, and other watchdogs under direct White House control, while the Federal Reserve's independence was left intact — for now.

Supreme Court Upholds Birthright Citizenship 6-3, Rebukes Trump's Executive Order — The

The twin 7.2 and 7.5 magnitude earthquakes that struck northwestern Venezuela on June 24 have now killed at least 1,719 people, with over 43,000 still reported missing and around 12,000 displaced. USGS models warn the final toll could climb well above 100,000, making this one of the deadliest natural disasters in the Western Hemisphere in decades.

Trump's 'One Big Beautiful Bill' Student Loan Caps Take Effect Today — NBC News / CNBC

~Today · US Economy & Education

Starting July 1, graduate students are capped at $20,500 per year in federal loans and a $100,000 lifetime limit, Graduate PLUS loans are eliminated for new borrowers, and a $257,500 lifetime cap on all federal borrowing kicks in, pushing many professional students toward costlier private lenders. The changes — part of the sweeping reconciliation law — affect the estimated 43 million Americans with federal student debt and reshape how future borrowers finance advanced degrees.

Israel Unanimously Recognizes the Armenian Genocide, Drawing Immediate Turkish Rebuke — Times

Israel's cabinet voted unanimously to formally recognize the Ottoman-era mass killings of Armenians as genocide, ending decades of silence driven by strategic ties with Turkey and marking a historic diplomatic shift amid the two countries' deteriorating relationship. Ankara condemned the move as politically motivated, and the measure now heads to the full Knesset for a ratifying vote.
